Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-31 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. The indicated allowability of claims 13 and 15-18 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s). Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

a. Claims 1-5, 12, 18, 21-23 and 30-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable under Goldfarb et al in view of Thomas. Goldfarb et al discloses a shaped body of plastic material with rounded outer contours comprising a first, second and third plane (14) having an oval outer periphery. Regarding the language "for carrying out a method of active motion therapy by filling bulk material of shaped bodies into a container, wherein limbs to be trained are immersed into the bulk material for carrying out exercises" has not been given patentable weight because the recitation is purely functional in nature and does not recite any structure. Goldfarb et al disclose all of the limitations of the claimed invention except for the colorant. Thomas teaches in col. 3, lines 39-52 a colorant added to plastic. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include a colorant to plastic in order to change the color and the aesthetic appeal of the plastic device. As to claims 2-5, and 21 the language has not been given patentable weight because the recitation is purely functional in nature and does not recite any structure. As to claim 12, the bodies are made from a thermoplastic, col. 2, line 28. As to claim 23, the bulk material is different sizes (fig. 1). As to claims 30-31, the container (12) is made from plastic (col. 2, line 24).

b. Claims 6-11, 19-20, 24-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Goldfarb et al and Thomas as applied to claim 1 above.

Goldfarb et al disclose all of the limitations of the claimed invention except for the ratios and size dimensions. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Goldfarb et al such that a ratio of length and width and size dimensions provide for a varying resistance to the user while exercising. Furthermore, absent a teaching as to criticality that the ratio be between 1:1.5 and 1:5 or 1:1.5 and 1:3.5, etc. or the length between 0.4cm and 4.0cm, etc., this particular arrangement is deemed to have been known by those skilled in the art since the instant specification and evidence of record fail to attribute any significance (novel or unexpected results) to a particular arrangement. In re Kuhle, 526 F.2d 553, 555, 188 USPQ 7,9 (CCPA 1975).

a. Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Goldfarb et al and Thomas as applied to claim 1 above and further in view of Kessler. Goldfarb et al disclose all of the limitations of the claimed invention except for the body consisting of polyolefin. Kessler teaches the body consisting of polyolefin (col. 3, line 2). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Goldfarb et al in view of the teaching of Kessler such that a device can be made from polyolefin for durability purposes.

b. Claims 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Goldfarb et al in view of Zinbarg. Goldfarb et al disclose all of the limitations of the claimed invention except for the body consisting of polypropylene. Zinbarg teaches polypropylene (col. 4, line 30). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Goldfarb et al in view of the teaching of Zinbarg such that a device can be made from polypropylene for durability purposes.

3. Claim 14 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
